Health and Social Care

YEAR 11

FINAL R018 EXAM May Entry

EXAM REVISION

Core content and specialist knowledge: Revise and practice exam papers in preparation for your final exam in Health and Social Care

Rationale: What short and long term targets can you suggest to create a health and well-being plan?

Barriers: What are the barriers to accessing services for the individual?

Case Study: Can you identify potential obstacles the person may face?

Person-centered approach: Why do healthcare professionals take a person centered approach?

COURSEWORK Hand in

Problem Solving: What issues does the case study have and what can you recommend to help them?

Published guidelines: Understanding of pulse rate, peak flow and BMI

DIRT: Dedicated improvement and reflection time. How can you reach your target grade?

Component 1&2 Completion

Interpret: Data from case studies using health indicators

Social Factors: How can Social Interactions, stress, finance and the environment impact an individuals social development?

Component 3: Exam Revision Feb Entry

Substance Use: How do different substance's impact the health and well being of an individual?

Poor Health: What is the impact on development is someone has ill health, poor diet and excersize and poor personal hygiene?

Comprehension: Understanding case studies

Health & Wellbeing: Can you define "health" & "well-being"?

EXAM REVISION

Review & Evaluate: Using feedback from the roles play, evaluate the impact of each Care Value

Demonstrate: What are the seven care values used in Health and Social Care services?

Apply: The care values to a role play scenario

LAB: Demonstrate and Apply Care Values

Present: Your findings in a report

Component 2: Understand care values

Assess: What is the impact of the support to overcome the barriers?

Identify: Sources of support available

LAA: Understand the types of services available

Investigate: How can individuals overcome each barrier?

Examine: The barriers to accessing services

Component 2: Health Care Services and Values

Understand: All types of health and social care services

Compare: The sources of support available

Reasoning: Which type of support is best or most effective?

Assess: The impact of support when dealing with life events.

Evaluate: Which case study adapted the best and why? Who adapted the least?

LAB Investigate how individuals deal with life events

Investigate: How individuals deal with life events

Discuss: What different events can happen in life? Are they expected or unexpected?

Component 1: Life Events

LAA: Assess the impact of factors on human development

Outline: What are the factors that can affect a person's PIES development?

Assess: The changing impact a factor can have over time

Examine: The different life stages in human development

Research: Independently research into a celebrity's life

Component 1: Human lifespan development

Coursework set on One Drive

Investigate: The factors that can impact someone's development

Assess: Which factor could impact someone the most and the least?

Recognise: The common life events that can occur

Compare: What is the difference between a health service and a social care service

Research: The health care services available in your area

Discuss: What barriers do we have to accessing services.

Identify: The seven official care values

Factors affecting development

Health and Social Care Services

Care Values

Understand: What are the "factors" that could affect human development?

Compare: The changes made to the body through each life stage

Understand: The changing impact of life stages in human development

Identify: The main life stages: infancy, early childhood, adolescence, early adulthood, middle adulthood and later adulthood

Human Lifestages

Collaborate: Develop an understanding of the four main areas of development.- P.I.E.S

Areas of Growth and Development: PIES

Exam Assessment: Knowledge retrieval task based on component 3 case study

Introduction to a new specification: BTEC Health and Social Care

YEAR 10

After choosing options in year 9, focus your studies in Health & Social Care in years 10 and 11. Throughout this course you will explore how humans develop form birth until death. You will gain knowledge and skills that can be valuable in any future career. You will have the opportunity to meet a range of healthcare professionals who will give you an insight to this exciting career choice.

Your coursework units will involve unpicking the lives of celebrities and many other case studies to find out how we are impacted as humans and how we can react to events in our lives'. This is an interesting course that equips you for further study in Health & Social Care.

KAP